

Cystic Fibrosis

When I 6 months old on Feb. 21, 2001 I was diagnosed with Cystic Fibrosis which means that you have to take treatments before and after school in the morning during the school year I do it at 7:00am and at night I do it at 9:00pm.

And sometimes you go in the hospital and if you have a bug or more than one you will get diabetes or Liver disease or sometimes you can get both I got both problems because I didn't take care of myself when you don't take good care of yourself you could end up in the hospital with a pic line.

A pic-line is a large sciny tube and they num both of your upper arms and then they will prick you with a needle and they will put the tube in you and put all kinds of tape on it to hold it in place and sometimes you will have a IV and a hour later they take out the IV.

Also when you don't go number 2 in a week you could end up back in the hospital you will have a tube up your nose to your stomach and all kinds of liquid goes in you and you can't talk cause it will hurt and no food till it comes out and you can eat!
